THE CARBON

No. 8

November 18, 1960

To Our Readers:

Due to that semesterly phenomenon known as mid term exams, there was a conspicuous absence of our venerable sheet last week. In our absence, there seems to have appeared a "rebel" publication? entitled "La Revolución" which has met with "resounding success". There was also great agitation from the masses favoring the removal of the CARBON editors; however, since we feel we are doing a commendable job, we indignantly refuse to capitulate either our titles or offices.

The Editors:

Jan Janesheski - Roving Reporter
Mike Nolan - Typesetter, Supreme
Joe Kempf - Copy Boy, Deluxe

(For those of you who missed us last week, we have saved all the old goop; here it is now!)

MEN'S CLOSED RETREAT

Immediately following last year's men's retreat, the CARBON was bombarded by complaints from many men students about the poor spiritual atmosphere of the event. Suggestions were made that a closed retreat be organized for the following year, in which the ideal spiritual atmosphere of silence, meditation, and contrition could be attained. This idea met with enthusiastic support and therefore, such a retreat is planned for this year. We feel that the upperclassmen who are familiar with the student retreats will want to take advantage of this opportunity for spiritual enrichment.

Those men interested should report to Packy Cunningham, Larry Krepps or Father Courtney before Thanksgiving. A deposit of $5.00 will be required for registration. Since the number which can be accommodated is limited, we suggest that those interested register soon. The weekend set is that of Friday evening, Saturday, and Sunday, December 2, 3, and 4 at Alvorna Retreat House.

NEW GYM?

Nope, it's the same old gym but with new trousers and suspenders. Of course the main difference is the bleachers. The opening games this season are at the Earlham Tourney, November 25 - 26. November 28, the team travels to Villa Madonna and then to Xavier on December 2. The following day, the Knights play their first home game against Franklin. You can bet the team will be going all out to win that first one in their home gym. So come on out and watch some scrapping and plenty of action.

Extentionalist On Campus ?

If this pseudo-realist actually exists, we are left with only one question

WHO IS JOE SULLIVAN ?

M-CLUB DANCE

There are now only 5 candidates left for M-Club Queen who is to be crowned tonight at the M-Club Semi-formal Dance. Beauty from the Senior Class is Anne Ebert; Junior Class representative is Sally Ryan; Katy Armington is the Sophomore candidate; the fair Freshman is Bonnie Johnson, and Barbara Hill represents the nurses. The Squires are the featured musicians and they will make with the sounds from 8:00 to 11:30 tonight in the Knight's Club. So borrow your best friend's suit (and his gal), dad's car, and $2 and come on out tonight for 3 hours of solid dancing and enjoyment.

SCOREBOARD DRIVE

With today the last day in the drive for funds for a new scoreboard, the Booster Club asks you to please give all you can and close out the drive with a bang. This Sunday, at 7:30, there will be a Varsity vs. Alumni Basketball Game, the proceeds of which will also go toward the scoreboard fund. Admission will be a paltry 25¢ per person - so bring your relatives, friends, enemies, etc., for these affairs are nothing but hilarious. (Our money's on the Varsity!)

Admission at the door will be 50¢, so get your tickets right away!

FOOTBALL FINALS

The last gridiron groans were heard last Sunday as the intermural football season came to an end. The session was marked by two upsets and an undefeated finish by the champion Colts. They won the league by rolling over the Giants 21-0. Jerry Williams sparked the Colts by scampering around end from the two and throwing 2 touch down passes. The first pass covered half the field and Paddy Cunningham turned around just in time to snag it. Bill Kelsay caught a short pass and raced 40 yards through the bewildered opposition to finish the scoring.

The Bears surprised the Chemists by a 12-6 decision. Dan O'Brien scored both touchdowns for the Bears. The Cards nearly shut out the Rams 13-2, in a hard fought battle for second place. Ron Bailey led the Cards with 12 points. Dr. Littlekill finished the season with 7 out of 9 correct picks for 77.7% according to his biased figures.
